SHOOTS OFFICIAL

Clyde Coal Company Blacksmith Wounds Superintendent

THEN TAKES OWN LIFE

William C. Gartley, aged 54, superintendent of the Clyde Coal Company's mine at Fredericktown, was wounded, perhaps fatally, at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon by John Kossick, aged 49, a blacksmith at the mine, who, after shooting Gartley, placed the weapon to his right temple, pulled the trigger and dropped dead beside the body of the man he had attempted to kill.

Kossick is believed to have been brooding over a fancied wrong and had not been working since Wednesday morning. Shortly before 5 o'clock Friday afternoon he called at the mine office, where Gartley was in conference with James Neale, president, and J. D. Geegan, general manager of the coal company. Kossick asked Gartley to step outside. The men had not been out of the office a minute when a shot rang out. Geegan and Neale rushed to the door to see Kossick place a 32-calibre revolver to his right temple and fire. Gartley was lying on the ground while blood rushed from a wound in the left cheek. Other workers about the mine and company store were attracted by the shots and ran to the scene.

Superintendent Gartley was carried into the company office where it was found the bullet struck him in the left cheek and taking a downward course had emerged below the right ear. Kosick is belived to have died suddenly. The wounded superintendent was kept at the company office under the care of physicians until 7:30 o'clock when he was placed on a Pennsylvania railroad train and started for Pittsburg.

Kossick had been in the employ of the coal company for 10 years and was trusted. He was a man of good habits and was never known to carry a revolver. Last Tuesday he is said to have gone to Superintendent Gartley and told him that he wanted to quit his job. Superintendent Gartley is said to have replied that Kossick could quit if he desired.

The close similarity between the tragedy and that at Duquesne last Saturday, when Assistant Superintendent Harry M. Stewart of the Duquesne steel mills was wounded seriously by Samuel Webb, who then committed suicide has led to a theory that Kossick's crime may have been prompted by the one at Duquesne.

Squitiero declared he thought it was a Black Hand scheme, and that he was to be killed.

HAS GOOD QUARTER

Post Office Receipts Heavy for Three Months Period

PROFITS SATISFACTORY

According to Postmaster J. E. McCardle the third quarter of the fiscal year just closed at the postoffice was a particularly good one. Postmaster McCardle gave a summary of his report to the Mail this morning, it showing the receipts for the quarter ending March 31 to be $707.76 better than the receipts for the first quarter of the present fiscal year, and but $220.25 behind the second quarter which includes the Christmas period and is therefore usually the heaviest.

Receipts for March were the highest for nine months, with the exception of December. The quarterly receipts by month were as follows:

January	$1,493.18
February	1,371.18
March	1,572.78
Total	$4,437.04

Receipts for the first quarter were $3,729.28 and the second quarter $4,657.29. Disbursements totaled $2,062.21 for the quarter, leaving a profit of $1,354.83 and placing the Charleroi postoffice on a satisfactory paying basis, the hobby of Postmaster General Hitchcock. Disbursements were as follows:

January	$ 912.52
February	905.96
March	1,244.72
Total	$2,062.21

Considering the period of financial depression a fair showing has been made by the Charleroi postal savings institution. There are 42 accounts carried. Contrary to the general custom, as noted at other towns or cities, Americans are in the majority as depositors, there being few foreign people who are carying accounts.

PEACE NOW REIGNS AMONG THE MINERS

Ousted Coal Diggers Taken Back Into Fold by Pittsburg District--Stormy Session Ended and Cheerfulness Abounds

The final cast in the long quarrel among the Pittsburg district miners was staged at Friday afternoon's session of the annual convention in Labor Temple, in Pittsburg, when the delegates voted to reinstate the last batch of expelled members. These, 14 in number, included Robert R. Gibbons of Idlewood and Abe Kephart of Carnegie, president and secretary-treasurer respectively of the rival Pittsburg district miners' organization which was dissolved last summer by President John P. White and the international executive board of the United Mine Workers.

A recommendation to this effect was made to the convention by a committee of the international organization, which came from Indianapolis for the purpose, and is composed of International Vice-President Frank J. Hayes, International Board Member Frank Farrington of Illinois, and International Organizer William Dimond of Michigan. President Feehan and Vice-President Van Bittner, the men who the Gibbons faction centered its fight on, made speeches in favor of the reinstatements.

The fight over the tellers' report on the district election subsided abruptly Friday. E. S. McCullough of Monongahela, who prefaced a speech with the statement and the regular district organization, told the delegates that discussion of the tellers' report had no right in the convention. As it was a referendum vote, he said, the convention had no alternative but to accept the result announced by the tellers. Charges growing out of the election could be investigated, he said, only by the international executive board of the mine workers.

Michael Halapy, who was Feehan's opponent in the election for president, had charged that 3,000 votes either were counted illegally for Feehan or thrown out, because they were for Halapy. He asked for an investigation. Van Bittner, vice-president of the district organization, declared that the campaign against Feehan was financed by the non-union coal interests of the district and was more for the purpose of disrupting the union than of ousting Feehan.

HIGHER CRITICISM CAUSES SCEPTICISM SAYS EVANGELIST

That there are no two ways of being a Christian was in effect the theme of the discourse of Rev. D. L. Schultz, the labor evangelist, at the First Baptist church Friday evening. That way is by following as nearly as possible in the footsteps of the Master, he affirmed. He declared there art two many persons who try to explain away the Bible, under the guise of higher criticism. These people cause scepticism. "Be obedient and do what he would have you do." enjoined Rev. Schultz. His text was "Lord, What Wilt Thou Have Me to Do."

Three services will be held on Sunday, morning, afternoon and evening. The afternoon service will be for men and members of trades unions, labor organizations and lodges have been extended special invitations. This meeting will be held at 3 o'clock. Rev. Schultz will speak on "A Man Out of His Place."

A REAL BENEFIT.

The action of the Central Trades Council in endorsing the curb market proposition for Charleroi is a step in the direction of greatly ameoloriating the condition of the working people if only the endorsement is followed by the proper action. This action should be the patronage and support of the working people generally when the effort is made to establish the market. The ultimate success of this project will depend upon the encouragement it receives at the start.

It is just as essential that the cost of the necessities of life be reduced as it is that wages be advanced, yet many working people never take this view of the situation. A five per cent advance in wages avails little if the cost of living advances that much all along the line. It is only at certain intervals that working people can secure an advance in wages, which is invariably accompanied by more or less agitation and loss of time and wages. The coal mining scale is only signed up once in two years, and the miners can scarcely hope for any advance in wages during the interval, but the individual family can by making an effort to buy farm produce direct from the producer very materially cut the cost of living the whole year around which may amount to considerably more than any likely advance in wages at the biennial adjustment.

The curb market would benefit the working people in particular and the organigations should see that their families so far as possible lend their aid to make it a success. A good curb market in Charleroi would be equivalent to at least a ten per cent advance in wages to every patron.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"I only hope to goodness that Assemblyman William Feeney of Charleroi will be re-elected. He was one of the three hardest and most conscientious workers in the Legislature at the last session whom I met at Harrisburg, during my sojourn there. While he did not accomplish all he went after, he was untiring in his efforts, and strictly honest in his intentions."

This was the statement uttered by Rev. D. L. Schultz, the labor evangelist, who is holding a series of evangelistic meetings at the Baptist church this week. Mr. Schultz is employed by the Pittsburg Baptist Association to work among the laboring people, and a part of his worg took him to Harrisburg during the last Legislative session.

"Unwittingly I was a witness to a little tranaction which greatly raised Mr. Feeney in my estimation," said Mr. Schultz. "A man approached him and intimated that if his action were based along certain lines it was likely to meet with consideration. Mr. Feeney very promptly proceeded to 'ball' that individual out in the manner that he deserved. He did not know that I overheard the transaction, and does not now know that I am aware of it."

ROBERT K. AIKEN

A Real Progressive

ROBERT K. AIKEN

The issue in the Republican party is between the advocates of two distinct policies. There are the Progressives and the Standpatters. The difference between them is in the attitude they believe the government should take in relation to the questions which concern the control, regulation and restriction of the powers and practices of combined or concentrated wealth.

The Standpatters are a well-known type in our government. They assume that there is a permanent class is society who hold the wealth, the privilege and the political power that should compel admiration and obedience. Aldrich, Cannon, Penrose, Smoot, and Lorimer are the type of its representatives.

The Progressives believe that the laws relating to the industrial and financial problems that confront the present generation should be in the interest of all the people and not in the interest of any privileged class.

The Progressives believe in reciprocity of trade between this and other countries, but they believe that such treaties should not discriminate in favor of or against any class. A treaty that provided free wheat for the flour trust, and free cattle for the beef trust, with no change whatever in the tariff duties on flour and meat, was as unfair to the farmer as it was unjust to the consumer.

A sound currency and a safe and adequate banking system are necessary to sustain the credit and business prosperity of the country. That there is a money trust, and that credit is in the control and power of a few men, is boastfully admitted. Laws relating to the currency and banking system should be fair and in the interest of all of the people, and not wholly in the interest of the bankers. The fact that the comptroller of the currency has in years past complained that recommendations for legislation in the interest of depositors have been wholly ignored by congress, while many laws have been enacted in the interest of the banks, suggests close scrutiny of any legislation on this subject.

I believe that the people are able to, and should, control their own government. To remove the intrenched power of the special interests in the administration of government, and to restore genuine representative government, as it was planned and intended under the constitution, is the issue between the Progressives and the Standpatters.

With the issue thus joined I submit my candidacy for Congress to the Republican voters of the 24th Congressional District to be held on Saturday, April 13.

AMONG THE THEATRES

THE PALACE—CHARLEROI

A particularly fine historical film at the Palace Theatre tonight is "How Washington Crossed the Delaware." Another amusing photoplay is "When a Man's Married," that is in accord with the song rendered by Donald J. Garrison last night, and which made a tremendous hit, entitled "The Married Man." A big feature for next week is "The Burial of the Maine," which comes Friday.

In addition to the Pathe Weekly Bulletin a number of feature photoplays were presented at the Palace Theatre this week. Among these were: "The Governor Who Had a Heart," "A Trail Through the Hills," "A Girl and Her Trust," and "Rival Constables." The latter was a most humorous comedy--a burlesque on the suffraget question. A musical feature greatly enjoyed by the audience was the overture, "In the Shadows," which was most effectively rendered by the Palace orchestra. This composition is lately published by Jos. Stearn & Co.of N. Y., and has made a hit in all the leading orchestras which are producing it.

THE STAR—CHARLEROI

In keeping pace with the demands of the house Manager Tom Cowan has been providing some interesting features at the Star Theatre. Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson, is the subject of a series of interesting films showing some of the most clever detective work since the realms of fiction were startled by the remarkable and mysterious tales of Gaboreau. "Over the Hills," and "As Fate Would Have It," were the titles of strong dramatic photoplays that made a big hit with the audiences. A Weekly Bulletin of world wide events also added to the attractions of the house. Some new and novel features are expected for next week.

THE COYLE—CHARLEROI

Starting the week with a big two-reel feature film, "The Power Behind the Throne," in which the celebrated emotional actress, Mildred Holland, took the leading part, the Coyle Theatre presented a succession of surprises and enjoyment to its patrons. The Gaumont Weekly had its usual interesting array of world-wide events, while the picture plays were of most interesting subjects. Among the interesting dramas were "A Living Memory," "An Ex-Convict's Ordeal," and "The Deserter."

In addition to Prof. Louis Ritzko, the accomplished Gypsy violinist, who appears Monday night, Manager R. S. Coyle has secured for the Coyle Theatre next week two big features in motion picture plays. These are "Shamus O'Brien," which appears on Wednesday, April 10, and "The Deserter," which comes Thursday, April 11. The story of "Shamus O'Brien" is simple and easy to follow, but it tells a thrilling tale of patriotic endeavor in times gone by to free Ireland from the tyranny that oppressed the people. In the "The Deserter" is shown a pathetic story of a British sergeant, who refused leave of absence to visit his dying mother, deserts and is captured and sentenced to be shot. He is ultimately saved by his sweetheart.

BROWNSVILLE STILL ON MAP

Brownsville is very much on the map according to Percival Phillips, war correspondent to the London Daily Express.

Mr. Phillips in a letter to his mother at Brownsville relates that he was circulating among the Turkish troops just before the latter were about to engage in battle with the Italian forces. He noticed one of the Turkish troopers who appeared to want to converse with him, as Mr. Phillips nodded to the soldier, as a means of recognition. The soldier great to Mr. Phillips' surprise inquired as to the location of Mr. Phillips' home. Brownsville proved to be no unknown place to this trooper, who readily informed Mr. Phillips of the location of town, some of the business places and also some acquaintances.

THIS WOMAN'S TROUBLES GONE

Terrible Cramps, Dizzy Spells Nervousness, Misery—Her Story of How She Got Well Again.

Hindsboro, Ill.—"[illegible] remedies have relieved me of all my troubles. I would have such bearing down misery and cramps and such weak, nervous, dizzy spells that I would have to go to bed. Some days I could hardly stay up long enough to get a meal.

"The doctor's medicine did me no good so I changed to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and got good results from the first bottle. I kept on taking it and used the Sanative Wash with it, until I was well again. I think every woman who suffers as I have, could take no better medicine."—Mrs. CHARLES MATTISON, Box 58, Hindsboro, Ill.

Testimony of Trained Nurse.

Cathlamet, Wash.—"I am a nurse and when I do much lifting I have a female weakness, but I take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I cannot say enough in praise of it. I always recommend it for female troubles."—Mrs. ELVA BARBER EDWARDS, Box 54, Cathlamet, Wash.

The makers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have thousands of such letters as those above—they tell the truth, else they could not have been obtained for love or money. This medicine is no stranger—it has stood the test for years.

The court has decided that being a small town anyhow, California will have to worry along with one burgess and no sensation.

A CORROBORATION

Of Interest to Charleroi Readers.

For months Charleroi citizens have seen in these columns enthusiastic praise of Doan's Kidney Pills by Charleroi residents. Would these prominent people recommend a remedy that had not proven reliable? Would they confirm their statements after years had elapsed if personal experience had not shown the remedy to be worthy of endorsement? No stronger proof of merit can be had than cures that have stood the test of time. The following statement should carry conviction to the mind of every Charleroi reader

Mrs. Brice Ray, 121 Prospect avenue, Charleroi, Pa., says: "I can speak as highly of Doan's Kidney Pills at the present time as when I publicly recommended them in 1907. At that time I told of the great benefit a member of my family received from the use of this remedy, procured at Piper Bros.' Drug Store and on several occasions since then, the person referred to has taken it with the best of results.'

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

SHOOTS OFFICIAL

Clyde Coal Company Blacksmith Wounds Superintendent

THEN TAKES OWN LIFE

William C. Gartley, aged 54, superintendent of the Clyde Coal Company's mine at Fredericktown, was wounded, perhaps fatally, at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon by John Kossick, aged 49, a blacksmith at the mine, who, after shooting Gartley, placed the weapon to his right temple, pulled the trigger and dropped dead beside the body of the man he had attempted to kill.

Kossick is believed to have been brooding over a fancied wrong and had not been working since Wednesday morning. Shortly before 5 o'clock Friday afternoon he called at the mine office, where Gartley was in conference with James Neale, president, and J. D. Geegan, general manager of the coal company. Kossick asked Gartley to step outside. The men had not been out of the office a minute when a shot rang out. Geegan and Neale rushed to the door to see Kossick place a 32-calibre revolver to his right temple and fire. Gartley was lying on the ground while blood rushed from a wound in the left cheek. Other workers about the mine and company store were attracted by the shots and ran to the scene.

Superintendent Gartley was carried into the company office where it was found the bullet struck him in the left cheek and taking a downward course had emerged below the right ear. Kosick is belived to have died suddenly. The wounded superintendent was kept at the company office under the care of physicians until 7:30 o'clock when he was placed on a Pennsylvania railroad train and started for Pittsburg.

Kossick had been in the employ of the coal company for 10 years and was trusted. He was a man of good habits and was never known to carry a revolver. Last Tuesday he is said to have gone to Superintendent Gartley and told him that he wanted to quit his job. Superintendent Gartley is said to have replied that Kossick could quit if he desired.

The close similarity between the tragedy and that at Duquesne last Saturday, when Assistant Superintendent Harry M. Stewart of the Duquesne steel mills was wounded seriously by Samuel Webb, who then committed suicide has led to a theory that Kossick's crime may have been prompted by the one at Duquesne.

Demands $10 Gets Bullet

Monessen Man May Die of Attempt to Collect at Youngstown

When Nick Rusio, a Monessen Italian demanded $10 from Tony Squitiero and insisted upon the latter promptly handing over the amount at Youngstown, Ohio, Friday, the latter pulled a revolver and shot Rusio in the back and hospital physicians say he will die. Squitiero declared he thought it was a Black Hand scheme, and that he was to be killed.

HAS GOOD QUARTER

Post Office Receipts Heavy for Three Months Period

PROFITS SATISFACTORY

According to Postmaster J. E. McCardle the third quarter of the fiscal year just closed at the postoffice was a particularly good one. Postmaster McCardle gave a summary of his report to the Mail this morning, it showing the receipts for the quarter ending March 31 to be $707.76 better than the receipts for the first quarter of the present fiscal year, and but $220.25 behind the second quarter which includes the Christmas period and is therefore usually the heaviest.

Receipts for March were the highest for nine months, with the exception of December. The quarterly receipts by month were as follows:

January	$1,493.18
February	1,371.18
March	1,572.78
Total	$4,437.04

Receipts for the first quarter were $3,729.28 and the second quarter $4,657.29. Disbursements totaled $2,062.21 for the quarter, leaving a profit of $1,354.83 and placing the Charleroi postoffice on a satisfactory paying basis, the hobby of Postmaster General Hitchcock. Disbursements were as follows:

January	$ 912.52
February	905.96
March	1,244.72
Total	$2,062.21

Considering the period of financial depression a fair showing has been made by the Charleroi postal savings institution. There are 42 accounts carried. Contrary to the general custom, as noted at other towns or cities, Americans are in the majority as depositors, there being few foreign people who are carying accounts.

PEACE NOW REIGNS AMONG THE MINERS

Ousted Coal Diggers Taken Back Into Fold by Pittsburg District--Stormy Session Ended and Cheerfulness Abounds

The final cast in the long quarrel among the Pittsburg district miners was staged at Friday afternoon's session of the annual convention in Labor Temple, in Pittsburg, when the delegates voted to reinstate the last batch of expelled members. These, 14 in number, included Robert R. Gibbons of Idlewood and Abe Kephart of Carnegie, president and secretary-treasurer respectively of the rival Pittsburg district miners' organization which was dissolved last summer by President John P. White and the international executive board of the United Mine Workers.

A recommendation to this effect was made to the convention by a committee of the international organization, which came from Indianapolis for the purpose, and is composed of International Vice-President Frank J. Hayes, International Board Member Frank Farrington of Illinois, and International Organizer William Dimond of Michigan. President Feehan and Vice-President Van Bittner, the men who the Gibbons faction centered its fight on, made speeches in favor of the reinstatements.

The fight over the tellers' report on the district election subsided abruptly Friday. E. S. McCullough of Monongahela, who prefaced a speech with the statement and the regular district organization, told the delegates that discussion of the tellers' report had no right in the convention. As it was a referendum vote, he said, the convention had no alternative but to accept the result announced by the tellers. Charges growing out of the election could be investigated, he said, only by the international executive board of the mine workers.

Michael Halapy, who was Feehan's opponent in the election for president, had charged that 3,000 votes either were counted illegally for Feehan or thrown out, because they were for Halapy. He asked for an investigation. Van Bittner, vice-president of the district organization, declared that the campaign against Feehan was financed by the non-union coal interests of the district and was more for the purpose of disrupting the union than of ousting Feehan.

HIGHER CRITICISM CAUSES SCEPTICISM SAYS EVANGELIST

That there are no two ways of being a Christian was in effect the theme of the discourse of Rev. D. L. Schultz, the labor evangelist, at the First Baptist church Friday evening. That way is by following as nearly as possible in the footsteps of the Master, he affirmed. He declared there art two many persons who try to explain away the Bible, under the guise of higher criticism. These people cause scepticism. "Be obedient and do what he would have you do," enjoined Rev. Schultz. His text was "Lord, What Wilt Thou Have Me to Do."

Three services will be held on Sunday, morning, afternoon and evening. The afternoon service will be for men and members of trades unions, labor organizations and lodges have been extended special invitations. This meeting will be held at 3 o'clock. Rev. Schultz will speak on "A Man Out of His Place."

A REAL BENEFIT.

The action of the Central Trades Council in endorsing the curb market proposition for Charleroi is a step in the direction of greatly ameolioriating the condition of the working people if only the endorsement is followed by the proper action. This action should be the patronage and support of the working people generally when the effort is made to establish the market. The ultimate success of this project will depend upon the encouragement it receives at the start.

It is just as essential that the cost of the necessities of life be reduced as it is that wages be advanced, yet many working people never take this view of the situation. A five per cent advance in wages avails little if the cost of living advances that much all along the line. It is only at certain intervals that working people can secure an advance in wages,which is invariably accompanied by more or less agitation and loss of time and wages. The coal mining scale is only signed up once in two years, and the miners can scarcely hope for any advance in wages during the interval, but the individual family can by making an effort to buy farm produce direct from the producer very materially cut the cost of living the whole year around which may amount to considerably more than any likely advance in wages at the biennal adjustment.

The curb market would benefit the working people in particular and the organigations should see that their families so far as possible lend their aid to make it a success. A good curb market in Charleroi would be equivalent to at least a ten per cent advance in wages to every patron.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"I only hope to goodness that Assemblyman William Feeney of Charleroi will be re-elected. He was one of the three hardest and most conscientious workers in the Legislature at the last session whom I met at Harrisburg, during my sojourn there. While he did not accomplish all he went after, he was untiring in his efforts, and strictly honest in his intentions."

This was the statement uttered by Rev. D. L. Schultz, the labor evangelist, who is holding a series of evangelistic meetings at the Baptist church this week. Mr. Schultz is employed by the Pittsburg Baptist Association to work among the laboring people, and a part of his worg took him to Harrisburg during the last Legislative session.

"Unwittingly I was a witness to a little tranaction which greatly raised Mr. Feeney in my estimation," said Mr. Schultz. "A man approached him and intimated that if his action were based along certain lines it was likely to meet with consideration. Mr. Feeney very promptly proceeded to 'bail' that individual out in the manner that he deserved. He did not know that I overheard the transaction, and does not now know that I am aware of it."

ROBERT K. AIKEN

A Real Progressive

ROBERT K. AIKEN

The issue in the Republican party is between the advocates of two distinct policies. There are the Progressives and the Standpatters. The difference between them is in the attitude they believe the government should take in relation to the questions which concern the control, regulation and restriction of the powers and practices of combined or concentrated wealth.

The Standpatters are a well-known type in our government. They assume that there is a permanent class is society who hold the wealth, the privilege and the political power that should compel admiration and obedience. Aldrich, Cannon, Penrose, Smoot and Lorimer are the type of its representatives.

The Progressives believe that the laws relating to the industrial and financial problems that confront the present generation should be in the interest of all the people and not in the interest of any privileged class.

The Progressives believe in reciprocity of trade between this and other countries, but they believe that such treaties should not discriminate in favor of or against any class. A treaty that provided free wheat for the flour trust, and free cattle for the beef trust, with no change whatever in the tariff duties on flour and meat, was as unfair to the farmer as it was unjust to the consumer.

A sound currency and a safe and adequate banking system are necessary to sustain the credit and business prosperity of the country. That there is a money trust, and that credit is in the control and power of a few men, is boastfully admitted. Laws relating to the currency and banking system should be fair and in the interest of all of the people, and not wholly in the interest of the bankers. The fact that the comptroller of the currency has in years past complained that recommendations for legislation in the interest of depositors have been wholly ignored by congress, while many laws have been enacted in the interest of the banks, suggests close scrutiny of any legislation on this subject.

I believe that the people are able to, and should, control their own government. To remove the intrenched power of the special interests in the administration of government, and to restore genuine representative government, as it was planned and intended under the constitution, is the issue between the Progressives and the Standpatters.

With the issue thus joined I submit my candidacy for Congress to the Republican voters of the 24th Congressional District to be held on Saturday, April 13.

AMONG THE THEATRES

THE PALACE—CHARLEROI

A particularly fine historical film at the Palace Theatre tonight is "How Washington Crossed the Delaware." Another amusing photoplay is "When a Man's Married," that is in accord with the song rendered by Donald J Garrison last night, and which made a tremendous hit, entitled "The Married Man." A big feature for next week is "The Burial of the Maine," which comes Friday.

In addition to the Pathe Weekly Bulletin a number of feature photoplays were presented at the Palace Theatre this week. Among these were: "The Governor Who Had a Heart," "A Trail Through the Hills," "A Girl and Her Trust," and "Rival Constables." The latter was a most humorous comedy--a burlesque on the suffraget question. A musical feature greatly enjoyed by the audience was the overture, "In the Shadows," which was most effectively rendered by the Palace orchestra. This composition is lately published by Jos. Stearn & Co.of N. Y., and has made a hit in all the leading orchestras which are producing it.

THE STAR—CHARLEROI

In keeping pace with the demands of the house Manager Tom Cowan has been providing some interesting features at the Star Theatre. Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson, is the subject of a series of interesting films showing some of the most clever detective work since the realms of fiction were startled by the remarkable and mysterious tales of Gaboreau. "Over the Hills," and "As Fate Would Have It," were the titles of strong dramatic photoplays that made a big hit with the audiences A Weekly Bulletin of world wide events also added to the attractions of the house Some new and novel features are expected for next week.

THE COYLE—CHARLEROI

Starting the week with a big two-reel feature film, "The Power Behind the Throne," in which the celebrated emotional actress, Mildred Holland, took the leading part, the Coyle Theatre presented a succession of surprises and enjoyment to its patrons. The Gaumont Weekly had its usual interesting array of world-wide events, while the picture plays were of most interesting subjects. Among the interesting dramas were "A Living Memory," "An Ex-Convict's Ordeal," and "The Deserter"

In addition to Prof. Louis Ritzko, the accomplished Gypsy violinist, who appears Monday night, Manager R. S. Coyle has secured for the Coyle Theatre next week two big features in motion picture plays. These are "Shamus O'Brien," which appears on Wednesday, April 10, and "The Deserter," which comes Thursday, April 11. The story of "Shamus O'Brien" is simple and easy to follow, but it tells a thrilling tale of patriotic endeavor in times gone by to free Ireland from the tyranny that oppressed the people. In the "The Deserter" is shown a pathetic story of a British sergeant, who refused leave of absence to visit his dying mother. deserts and is captured and sentenced to be shot. He is ultimately saved by his sweetheart.

State Superintendent at Donora.

Dr Nathan C. Schaffer, State Superintendent of Public Instruction will visit the Donora schools next Tuesday and the California State Normal He is expected to deliver addresses at both places. Dr. Schaffer will be in Pittsburg the early part of the week to attend an educational conference.

BROWNSVILLE STILL ON MAP

Brownsville is very much on the map according to Percival Phillips, war correspondent to the London Daily Express.

Mr. Phillips in a letter to his mother at Brownsville relates that he was circulating among the Turkish troops just before the latter were about to engage in battle with the Italian forces. He noticed one of the Turkish troopers who appeared to want to converse with him, as Mr. Phillips nodded to the soldier, as a means of recognition. The soldier great to Mr. Phillips' surprise inquired as to the location of Mr. Phillips' home. Brownsville proved to be no unknown place to this trooper, who readily informed Mr. Phillips of the location of town, some of the business places and also some acquaintances.

For months Charleroi citizens have seen in these columns enthusiastic praise of Doan's Kidney Pills by Charleroi residents. Would these prominent people recommend a remedy that had not proven reliable? No stronger proof of merit can be had than cures that have stood the test of time. The following statement should carry conviction to the mind of every Charleroi reader

Mrs. Brice Ray, 121 Prospect avenue, Charleroi, Pa, says: "I can speak as highly of Doan's Kidney Pills at the present time as when I publicly recommended them in 1907.
